Normal weather conditions is defined as there being no unusually high levels of chemical or other pollutants within the external or internal atmosphere of the premises where the product is incorporated that would adversely affect the service life expectancy of the product. Please see over for full terms and conditions.

The guarantees are subject to the following conditions and exclusions:

Section 1: Conditions

The installation of the products must be completed in accordance with the instructions and specifications of Hambleside Danelaw Ltd in respect of each product and the following British Standards:

BS 5250 Code of practice for control of condensation in buildings

BS 5534 Slating and tiling for pitched roofs and vertical cladding. Code of practice

BS 8000 Workmanship on building sites. Code of practice for slating and tiling of roofs and walls

Section 2: Exclusions

This Guarantee shall not extend to the following:

- Incorrect or inappropriate product application or use.
- Damage resulting from the movement, subsidence or any failure in the structure or building in which the product has been installed.
- Damage resulting from rain and wind conditions more severe than those occurring on average only once in a 50 year period at that site.
- Damage resulting from lightning strike.
- Damage resulting from excessive or abnormal pollution levels.
- Damage resulting from abnormal use of the roof.
- Damage as a result of accidental or malicious damage.
- Damage resulting from products not manufactured by Hambleside Danelaw Ltd

- Deterioration of the product colour as a result of natural weathering conditions.

Section 3: Claim Procedures

Any claim under this Guarantee must be recorded in writing to Hambleside Danelaw Ltd at its address within ten working days of the discovery of the fault.

Hambleside Danelaw Ltd will then arrange for the defect to be inspected in order to determine the cause. Thereafter Hambleside Danelaw Ltd will indicate in writing whether or not it accepts liability under the Guarantee.

In the event that a claim has not been resolved between the parties within a reasonable time then arbitration will be arranged in accordance with Hambleside Danelaw's Conditions of Sale.

Section 4: Liability

Hambleside Danelaw Ltd will under no circumstances be liable for any incidental or consequential damage to the building structure or contents of the building or any other direct or indirect loss resulting from damage to the relevant product.

Section 5: Service Life

Service life is defined as the actual period of time during which no excessive expenditure is required on operation, maintenance, or repair of a component. The start of the service life is taken from the time of installation of the product. The end of service life is taken from the point in time when the only way to deal with the unacceptable loss of performance is by replacement. For further guidance on the durability of building components refer to BS 7543 Guide to durability of buildings and building elements, products and components.

The guarantee does not affect your statutory rights or any other rights which you may have to make other claims against us for loss or damage resulting from the products being defective or as a result of our negligence in the manufacture of the products.
